Founder and President of The Israel Project (TIP)

Jennifer Laszlo Mizrahi is the founder and president of The Israel Project (TIP), a non-profit educational organization that gets facts about Israel and the Middle East to press, policy leaders and the public. TIP's team of trusted Middle East multi-lingual experts and former reporters regularly hosts press briefings featuring leading experts and analysts that give journalists and leaders an opportunity to get information and answers to their questions face-to-face. Mizrahi regularly meets with leaders from around the globe. More than 16,000 reporters around the world have used TIP facts/services fifty times or more. TIP has offices in Washington, D.C. and Jerusalem, Israel.

Prior to starting The Israel Project, Mizrahi was the founder and president of Laszlo & Associates, Inc., a strategic communications and public policy company that did projects for the White House and six incumbent heads of state. Mizrahi previously served as a foreign affairs legislative assistant to the U.S. Congress. She studied at Hebrew University in Jerusalem and has degrees in International Relations and Judaic Studies from Emory University. The Forward newspaper has twice listed Mizrahi in its "Forward 50" most influential Jews in America and her work earned her recognition as a "Point of Light" by President H. W. Bush.

For six years Mizrahi published a weekly column on public policy in The Daily Record. Mizrahi has also been interviewed on "One on One with John McLaughlin," CNN, CNBC, FOX, MSNBC and C-SPAN. and quoted in The Washington Post, The New York Times, Newsweek, The Economist, People and Investor's Business Daily. She also has been profiled in The Washington Post, Working Woman, the Jewish Times, Lifestyles, The Capitol, Hadassah, Jewish Sages and other publications.
